

Callback, the safety newsletter for the aviation community

 devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20040524-00

May 24, 2004

Raymond Chen

Yes the “S” in NASA stands for “Space”, but don’t forget that the “A” stands for “Aeronautics”. One of the programs that I (amateur aviation wannabe) find fascinating is the Aviation Safety Reporting System, where pilots can submit anonymous reports of “stupid things I have done” in order to teach other pilots “Don’t do what I did.”

Back issues of their newsletter, Callback, are online.

Raymond Chen

Follow

