

How do I change the directory Windows uses for user profiles?

 devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20081210-00

December 10, 2008

Raymond Chen

To change the directory Windows uses for user profiles (by default, the `\Users` directory), set the ProfilesDirectory setting in your unattend file.

This setting is available only via the unattend file. There is no GUI interface for this, nor can it be changed after Windows has been installed. Sorry.

Raymond Chen

Follow

