

That doesn't sound like South Frisian to me

---

 devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20131223-01

December 23, 2013

Raymond Chen

I dreamed that I was back in college taking a course in South Frisian, but I suspected something was up because the words didn't sound Germanic at all, and we were taught the words to a Christmas carol as Nom Yom Hear What I Hear?

Also, because the course was taught by known prevaricator/exaggerator Robert Irvine.

Raymond Chen

Follow

