

Internal training video on expense reports contains inconsistency: Alert the media!

 devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20180716-00

July 16, 2018

Raymond Chen

I was watching an internal training video on proper handling of expense reports. The narrator says, “This is a small expense report, and everything looks good.”

But everything does not look good. The expense report says Meals: USD $14, but the receipt is for a $153 flat-screen monitor.

Was this a test? I’m not sure.

Raymond Chen

Follow

